Strong Market For Wolf Pelts

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask.—Military demand for inexpensive fur has made the wolf a popular quarry of the northern trapper.

Once sought only to end his wanton attacks on wild life and scattered settlement livestock, the wolf now is in demand in the fur market with prices up 50 per cent. over 1949.

United States army orders for pelts to trim parkas were reflected in Regina fur sales recently were a top of $7.35 a pelt was paid. The average was $4.57.

But the wolf hasn't changed his habits and northern game men say his attacks on caribou in the Black lake area 450 miles north of here are murderous this season.

Despite his current trapping popularity, game men are going ahead with annual campaigns against the wolf. Hunters will still need lots of patience and cunning to catch the wasteland marauder despite the higher prices.

Double Immigration From Britain Seen

LONDON.—Canada hopes to double her intake of British emigrants next year, L. G. Cummings, superintendent of Canadian immigration service in London, said.

The target for 1951 would be between 20,000 and 25,000 against about 12,000 this year.

10,000 Dutch Coming
THE HAGUE, Netherlands—About 10,000 Dutch immigrants will go to Canada next year, it was announced. Altogether 40,000 people are expected to leave The Netherlands for new homes in other countries in 1951.

CANADA MADE BIG GAINS IN PIG PRODUCTION

BELFAST.—Britain's foremost authority on livestock breeding said that Canada in the last few years had made "terrific strides" in pig production and had outstripped Britain.

Dr. John Hammond, Nobel prize winner from Cambridge, added that quality of Canadian bacon is far superior to that in Britain where bacon was made "out of any old pig."

Funny and Otherwise

Dodd—"I notice that in telling about that fish you caught you vary the size for different listeners."

Rodd—"Yes, I never tell a man more than I think he'll believe."

Marie: "I must say I don't think much of your fiancé."

Betty: "I don't want you to."

The magistrate who was a keen golfer, was trying the case of a man summoned for cruelty to his wife.

"My client has had an unhappy life," stated defending counsel. "For years his wife has constantly nagged him. On the night in question, driven to desperation, he beat her into silence with a golf club."

"Indeed!" said the magistrate, with interest. "In how many strokes?"

Master of House: "Why did you tell your mistress what time I came home last night after I had told you to be quiet about it?"

Maid: "I didn't, sir. She asked me what time it was, and I told her I was too busy getting breakfast to notice."

Shopwalker: "That customer was hanging around for a long time. What did he want to see?"
Pretty assistant (coily): "Me, sir."

"Look here," stormed Brown to the estate agent. "About that riverside bungalow you sold me." "Anything wrong, sir?" asked the agent.

"Wrong!" exclaimed Brown "the other morning we woke up and found the place had floated two miles down the river."

"H'm," said the agent. "That's a stroke of luck. The rates are much lower down there." 2914

DISPOSAL OF FROSTED WHEAT DEPENDS ON U.S. MARKETS

WINNIPEG.—Disposal of frosted wheat from the 1950 prairie crop depends on finding a market for it in the United States, W. C. McNamara, assistant chief commissioner of the Canadian wheat board, said.

He told the university of Manitoba's farm and home week meeting that 18 months will be needed to market the low-grade, frost-damaged wheat. Some of it already has started moving to overseas markets.

"But our final market will depend on shipments to the United States," Mr. McNamara said.

Thailand Wealth Is Attraction For Reds

By WALTER BRIGGS
(CPC Correspondent)

The clanking of Communist chains elsewhere in Asia is beginning to be heard in Thailand (Siam). In six months, in a year, they could shackle this pleasant tropical country, whose very name means Land of the Free.

The Thai are simple, peaceful people. There is little strife among them, none of the bloody guerrilla warfare that goes on in many neighboring countries. Most of the Thai know nothing about ideology, nothing about communism.

However, in Bangkok, the capital, their leaders are awakening to the threat. They must strengthen Thailand's defenses, they have come to realize, if they are to prevent Communist conquest.

Thailand is vulnerable to communism because of her geographic position. Indo-China, Burma and Malaya, all torn by Communist revolution, lie on her borders. She is also vulnerable because of her immigrant Chinese community. About 3,000,000, roughly one-sixth of her population, are Chinese.

Field Marshal Phibun Songgram, Thailand's wily little premier, recognizes these dangers. Phibun, who came to power through a coup d'etat in 1947, is a strong man. His job is to make his country strong.

World communism seeks to enslave Thailand, the country's leaders believe, because she is the rice bowl of Asia. This year she will export about 1,200,000 tons, more than any other country. To seize and dispense this rice could win communism new friends in hungry lands.

Besides, Thailand has rubber, tin and timber, raw materials valuable either in war or peace.

Thai leaders also reason that world communism would never leave their country a free vacuum among Communist countries. Russia would never leave it a storehouse of raw materials for the Western democracies and a base for counter-propaganda and counter-attack against communism.

World communism, through the Peking radio, already has made its position clear. "The Thai government is a tool of Western imperialism."

Though they have no proof, Thai leaders believe that diplomats at the Soviet legation at Bangkok (the only Russian diplomatic representation in southeast Asia) are already plotting Thailand's seizure.

They may be doing this in liaison with Chinese Communist headquarters at Kunming, Yunnan, and with Ho Chi-Minh, the Indo-Chinese Communist leader.

Premier Phibun has been trying to seal Thailand's frontiers against Communist agents. However, the frontiers, thick with jungles and mountains, are long and far away.

Phibun has been trying to police the Chinese immigrants. But on a recent Chinese holiday scores of Chinese Communist flags went up on Chinese houses and shops throughout the country.

Looking for the worst, Premier

A chief Red threat to Thailand is its huge immigrant Chinese population, crowded into squalid areas like this one in Bangkok.

YOU'RE TELLING ME By WILLIAM RITT

Paavo Nurmi and Glenn Cunningham, two famous runners, says as Illinois chiropractor, had flat feet. And all this time we thought it was their rivals who were left flat-footed.

A Wisconsin man borrowed a tank because, he says, as a boy he always dreamed of the fun it would be to drive one. Even more fun, no doubt, if he encountered a few road hogs.

There's nothing that disconcerts a globe-girdler as much as to have the party chit-chat turn to potential inter-planetary travel.

In Michigan a cow attacked a passing motor car. Hunting season being on, it probably figured the car was full of deer hunters.

Latest fashion fad is the trumpet silhouette. Guess the gals will have to adopt it, if they wish to be in tune with the times.

William Shakespeare, a London research scholar now claims, was really a spy for Queen Elizabeth. All we have to say is that his disguise as a playwright was darn near perfect.

Wonder what Britain's bird watchers watch these days—now that all the birds have gone South? Maybe they just watch other bird watchers.

A Chicago woman told a judge her husband poured gravy over her. Maybe he figured that what she needed was a good vitamin shampoo.

A chicken that hopped aboard an eastern train was caught and cooked by the crew. A new version of the one-way ride.

Phibun recently ordained: "His majesty's government have deemed it necessary to make all preparations for a possible state of war."

He promised that Thailand would fight communism with all her might. She will fight it if it comes with foreign invaders, even the powerful Chinese Communists. She will fight it internally.

Thailand has a fairly big army. But, poorly equipped, it would hardly be a match for a force with the firepower of the Chinese Communists.

Britain and the United States recognize this. The United States, in fact, is now showing more than casual interest in Thailand for the first time in history.

For his part, Premier Phibun is turning toward the west. He has recognized Bao Dai, the French-sup-

YES, BUT WHAT CAN BE BOUGHT WITH A NICKEL?—Canada's 1951 five-cent piece, a commemorative coin marking the 200th anniversary of the discovery of nickel, has been struck in Ottawa. Muriel MacDonald, of the Royal Canadian Mint, holds the first of the new coins and the plaster model from which it was copied. New coins are being minted from processed nickel, already on hand at the mint.

Young Canadians Nearly Miss Kiss Of Grandmother

COPENHAGEN, Denmark.—Big-hearted airport officials here flagged down an airliner ready for takeoff so that an 82-year-old grandmother on the plane could meet her two young grandchildren who had just flown in on another plane from Canada.

Mrs. Anna Nielsen of Copenhagen was aboard the Scandinavian Airlines plane starting to leave for Africa when another from New York landed with Nielsen children, Benn, 9, and Michael, 12, on their way from Canada to rejoin their father in Copenhagen.

They had never met their grandmother so a senior airport official ordered the outgoing plane to be delayed long enough for her to kiss them.

INTERESTING REQUEST

BRISTOL, England.—A Bristol firm received the following letter from a native in Lagos, Nigeria: "Kindly send me belt and fountain pen, football and anything you like. I will send elephant and coconut."

ported Indo-Chinese who has the backing of the Western democracies against Communist Ho Chi-Minh.

He has made available 4,000 troops for the fight against the Korean Communists. And he has asked for aid from the West: $250,000,000 worth.

The West has not come through to that extent. Resources cannot be spread around that thickly. But Britain has provided equipment for five infantry battalions. The United States is providing $10,000,000 for arms and $11,000,000 for economic development.

Western strategists generally believe that a Communist seizure of Thailand would mean the eventual loss of all the Southeast Asia to the Kremlin. As the threat to Thailand increases, they are likely to go further to her support.

Meanwhile, the simple, happy people of Thai live in blissful unawareness of the threat of Communist bondage. To rally them is up to Premier Phibun.

Prejudice is the reason of fools.

Great Herds Of Caribou Reported South Of Churchill

CHURCHILL, Man.—Caribou from the barren lands in numbers greater than ever before are reported along the Hudson Bay railroad south of here. But that does not mean the natives necessarily got what they needed as the animals migrated southward from their summer feeding grounds. Caribou do not always follow the same route.

Tension grips the caribou-eating Indians at migration time. If the animals pass within 100 miles the Indians will know, for scouts are scattered through the area. The Eskimo will range quite as far when the caribou are expected.

Caribou are necessary to the welfare of the northern native, except Eskimos who live along the coast and on the Arctic island. These people use seal. The others—by far the greater number—depend on caribou meat for food, caribou skins for clothing.

Small Community Has "Wonder Cow"

NEW HOPE, Pa.—This little Delaware river community is still arguing about the "wonder" cow that can tell noon-time. A few believe it. The others say it's a masterful tall tale.

Charles A. Spickler, 71, noticed the "phenomenon" while building a house on a lot adjoining the field where the cow was pastured.

"Every day, two or three minutes before the noon whistle blows at the fire house, the cow moos three or four times—so help me," Spickler said.

Skeptics suggested it might be just a cow's habit, like coming in for milking time. Spickler had the answer to that.

He waited until daylight saving time ended.

"I figured that would be a good test, since she can't read a clock or a newspaper," he said.

The cow didn't let Spickler down, according to his story. When standard time started, she moosed one hour earlier than before. Spickler was impressed. "She's a scientific wonder," he said.

FORM OF CRITICISM

OSECOLA, Ark.—Bettye Starr said the weather-beaten old farmer wasn't taking any chances on his steak order. When the waitress placed the silver before him, he pulled out a whetstone and sharpened the knife.

On The Side : E. V. Durling

The term "housewife" is objected to by many married women. They want to be called home managers. This, in my opinion, is much ado about nothing. However, our policy is to do what we can to please our feminine clients. The term "housewife" is, therefore, discontinued by this department. "Home manager" will be substituted. Not only that, we will campaign for an office for every home manager. It could be a little room off the kitchen with desk, telephone, typewriter and everything. Also a sign reading: "Office Home Manager—Husband Seen by Appointment Only."

Popular Champion
Can you tell us who is the present heavyweight boxing champion of Ireland? And did you know that a heavyweight boxing champion of Ireland was one of the most popular Irishmen who ever lived? It's a fact. His name was Dan Donnelly. He was the Irish champion around 1814. When Donnelly passed on at the age of 32, 80,000 residents of Dublin attended his funeral.

That Carburetor Again
Am asked once more if it is a fact there has been patented and kept off the market a carburetor that makes it possible to run an automobile over 170 miles on a gallon of gasoline. A carburetor reported to perform as mentioned was patented and kept off the market. However, the patent runs out soon and this unusual invention will be in the public domain.

Innkeeper's Responsibility
In England a motorist left his car in the parking space provided by a roadside inn, entered the establishment to enjoy a mug of ale. When he looked for his car later it had been stolen. The inn management claimed it was not responsible for the loss of the car. However, the lawyer for the motorist dug into the law books and found several old laws, one of which was passed in 1626, that ruled an innkeeper's liability was to take care of the goods of his guests. The innkeeper had to pay the full price of the motorist's car plus court costs. There may be some old laws like that still in effect in this country. If your car is stolen from a hotel or roadside parking spot, have your lawyer check.

Hot Profits
Three members of the Colman family of England each left fortunes of about $3,000,000. These fortunes were made from the sale of mustard. So it would seem manufacturing mustard is an extremely profitable activity. However, not as profitable as dealing in canned soup. As I previously told you, the celebrated canned soup merchant, Dorrance, left a fortune of $110,000,000.

Psychiatric Cures
Those psychiatrists are certainly covering plenty of territory in their treatments these days. It is now claimed excessively plump females wishing to regain their schoolgirl figures or the figures they possessed as a bride should consult a psychiatrist. Is said the trouble with these overweight ladies is they have a "mental compulsion" to eat. That they lack the will-power to resist a banana nut sundae with whipped cream or a second helping of mashed potatoes. And that consultations with a psychiatrist might develop this will power.

Reason For Nurse Shortage
It has always been claimed by this department that nurses are preferred matrimonial material. This is backed up by a recent statement of Dr. Donald Case of California, who says his experience indicates only about 20 per cent of graduate nurses follow their profession for any length of time. "They are snapped up for wives by sensible young men," says the good doctor. "A nurse learns to care for other people's pains instead of spilling out her own problems. She takes to family life like a hen taking over a brood of chickens. It's no wonder there is a nurse shortage."

Fur-Lined Lingerie
A Bostonian says his wife is always catching cold. That the doctor says she should wear flannel underwear in the winter, but she won't do it. Perhaps she should be provided with the regular glamorous type of lingerie, but that it be lined with fur or flannel.

He was credited with shooting down four Nazi planes before being knocked into the English Channel and taken prisoner.

GUILTY—A Criminal Assizes jury recently declared guilty of murder, Genereux Ruest, 54-year-old crippled watchmaker, for his part in the time-bomb airlines disaster at Sault au Cochon in September, 1949, in which 23 men, women and children were killed. Since Nov. 27 when the trial started, the five-foot watchmaker has listened while 87 witnesses told their stories in his criminal assizes court case resulting from the time-bombing of an airplane. J. Albert Guay, jewelry salesman who employed Ruest to do watch-repairing, has been convicted of wrecking the plane to kill Rita Guay, his wife.

Up to the early 1800s in England it was a capital offence to cut down cherry trees. One man was hanged for this "crime" in 1814.

PROTECT WALLPAPER

To protect the wallpaper when you are washing wood-work hold a flat strip of tin against the board as you wash with the sudsy water. An old licence plate will work to guard against splashes. However, wash the plate first with hot soapsuds to remove oily grime from its surface.

The stamp is intended to publicize the great wealth of fish resources found in Canadian waters, both coastal and inland.

This hand comes from a tournament abroad. Four Hearts can be reached in various ways, but the direct raise by North to Two Hearts should be avoided; there are only 8 losers, but the trump support is moderate.

Only one declarer found a way of making 10 tricks after the lead of ♠ 3. The finesse of ♠ J was taken at trick 2. South came back with ♠ A and finessed ♠ Q, followed by the discard of ♠ 2 on ♠ A. Then came ♠ A and ♠ 7. West could have saved the day by going up with ♠ 10 and leading ♠ 6 or ♠ K, but in practice he played ♠ 8. East had to win and elected to return his last Spade. ♠ J was ruffed in dummy and ♠ 6 followed. East trumped with ♠ 8, but South made sure of his contract by under-ruffing with ♠ 4.

ROYAL BANK FIGURES SET NEW CANADIAN BANKING RECORD

Marked growth in every department and the establishment of new high records in the field of Canadian banking are revealed in the balance sheet of The Royal Bank of Canada, just issued.

Covering the year ending November 30, 1950, the balance sheet shows total assets of $2,497,376,342. This total represents an increase of $162,390,988 over the record figure of a year ago.

Deposits have moved up to $2,337,503,468. This is an increase of $145,362,890 over the figures of a year ago and is a new record in the field of Canadian banking. Interest bearing deposits have increased by $43,785,626 to reach a total of $1,103,918,226, a new high.

Indicative of the mounting tempo of business and industrial activity in the Dominion is the increase in commercial loans in Canada. Continuing a trend which has been steady since 1945, the total under this heading now stands at $555,160,656, an increase of $83,727,318, as compared with the figure of a year ago.

The liquid position of the bank is very strong. Cash assets totalling $471,113,083 are equivalent to 19.54 per cent. of all the bank's public liabilities. Liquid assets are again higher and stand at $1,717,765,402, which is equal to 71.26 per cent. of the bank's liabilities to the public. Included in the bank's liquid assets are Dominion and Provincial securities totalling $906,766,904.

Bank Premises account has increased from $13,601,961 to $17,068,704, reflecting the bank's programme of branch building and improvement. A number of new branches were established in areas of new development, existing premises were modernized and the latest type of mechanical equipment installed to ensure faster and more efficient service to

I WISH I WERE A BOY

(A little girl's thoughts)

I wish I were a boy; a carefree happy boy.

One with so little work to do; He romps and plays the whole day through.

I think that would be joy!

I wish I were a boy; a boy so gaily free

From making beds and sweeping floors;

From working stuffily indoors, When there's so much to see.

I wish I were a boy; a boy don't have to care

If seams are straight, or clothes in style;

To be prim and proper all the while, Nor have curlers in his hair!

I wish I were a boy; a boy can race and run.

Perhaps if I don't act too prim

My brother'll let me play with him,

Then we'll have lots of fun!

the bank's steadily increasing clientele.

After the usual deductions for the Staff Pension Fund and Contingency Reserves, profits for the year were $11,845,138 as compared with $10,918,243 a year ago. Of this amount $4,012,000 has been set aside for Dominion and Provincial taxes and $1,273,413 for depreciation of bank premises. After the above deductions, the net profit was $6,559,725. This compares with $5,827,521 in 1949. Out of net profit $3,500,000 was paid in dividends and $3,059,725 carried forward to Profit and Loss Account, resulting in a balance of $6,920,039. From this amount $6,000,000 has been transferred to the Reserve Fund, which brings the latter up to $50,000,000, leaving a balance of $920,039 in Profit and Loss Account.

Farmers Look Upon 1950 As One Of Vast Opportunities Lost

OTTAWA. — For Canada's weather-bitten farmers the year 1950 will probably go down as one of vast opportunities lost, opportunities that might have given rural folk added millions to meet high production and living costs. For 1950 was the year of the big frost, that destroyed millions of bushels of prairie wheat, delayed harvesting and cut the quality of much of what was left for storage, consumption and export.

It was the year, too, when the world, faced with the threat of war, gave urgent thought to stockpiling of food and the world market for wheat swung wide open.

Because of the frost damage, Canada likely would be unable to handle all of the increased demand. It appeared unlikely that she would have sufficient stocks to fill the entire 219,000-bushel quota she had under the international wheat agreement for 1950-51.

Other basic industries, such as paper and oil, fared much better. Paper production, a top dollar-earner for Canada, increased production in the first 10 months to 4,391,000 tons from 4,325,000 tons a year ago.

Oil made a more spectacular climb. In the first nine months, output from Canadian wells rose to 20,296,000 barrels, a near 25-per cent. increase over the 15,700,000 barrels in the same period a year ago.

In at least these two phases of the Canadian economy, prosperity in 1951 appeared far more assured than that in wheat. Adding to Canada's wheat troubles was a shortage in box cars and a sharp drop in total movements to east coast ports in the fall months.

Freighters which had been channelled from the United Kingdom and other overseas points to Halifax and Saint John, N.B., to pick up Canadian wheat had to be diverted to American ports because of the lack of Canadian supplies. That meant that Britain, Canada's biggest wheat customer, was buying wheat from the United States at a time when she might have purchased from Canada.

Britain had promised to buy between 110,000,000 and 120,000,000 bushels from Canada in the 1950-51 crop year. She could not buy it, however, if the wheat was not there ready to move.

Of the total 578,000,000 bushels, including carry-over, available in Canada as the new crop year began Aug. 1, probably no more than about 265,000,000 bushels would be millable grades, adequate for grinding into flour and production of bread.

Of that amount, Canada needed about 45,000,000 bushels of millable wheat for her own use and another 45,000,000 to carry-over until wheat from the 1951 crop is harvested next September. All in all, that would leave Canada with about 175,000,000 bushels to meet a 219,000,000-bushel I.W.A. quota.

The lower-quality wheat would be sold as feed. Income from this wheat would, of course, be lower than that from millable grades. However, one thing the farmer was certain of—he had an initial price of $1.40 per bushel for No. 1 Northern, basis delivery at wheat board elevators.

He also had a promise that the board would make a final payment under the five-year pool which ended July 31. That payment may go a long way in helping the western farmer over the rough edges in the 1950-51 crop year.

N.H.L. Sport Notes

McFadden Back To Form

Jimmy McFadden, Detroit Red Wings' center, is playing this season like he did in 1947-48 when he won the Calder Memorial Trophy as the N.H.L.'s outstanding rookie. McFadden scored seven goals in six games recently. He scored six goals in a four-game streak. On November 29 against Boston he tallied twice; in his next game against Canadiens on December 2 he did the same thing; he failed to garner a goal against Canadiens on the following night; but on December 6 against Rangers he scored another brace.

Another Delisle Product

Jackie Miller, new winger with Chicago Black Hawks, is the third player in the N.H.L. born and raised in Delisle, Sask. The Bentley's, Max and Doug, are responsible for putting the tiny town on the map. Miller, like the Bentley boys, is a wheat farmer in the summer months.

Date For Replayed Game Set

The postponed Detroit-Chicago game of October 19 will be played in Chicago on January 23. The Detroit-Chicago game scheduled for Chicago on January 16 will be played on January 17 instead of the 16th.

RECIPE HINTS

Pecan cookies are tender, rich and easy.

Pecan Cookies

One-half cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, 2 tsp. milk, ½ tsp. salt, 2 tsp. baking powder, 1½ cups flour, ½ tsp. vanilla, ½ cup chopped pecans.

Let butter stand at room temperature until soft. Beat in sugar, egg, milk and vanilla. Add other ingredients, mixed and sifted together. Mix well, chill, roll out ¼ inch thick and cut with a cookie cutter or omit ¼ cup flour and drop from a spoon. Top cookies with a pecan, if desired. Bake in a moderately hot oven about 8 minutes. Cool on wire rack.

Peanut Cookies

Three cups sifted flour, 1 tsp. baking soda, 1 tsp. cream of tartar, ½ tsp. salt, 2½ cups brown sugar, 3 eggs, beaten, 1½ cups coarsely ground peanuts, ¾ cup shortening, 2 tsp. vanilla.

Sift flour, measure and sift again with baking soda, cream of tartar and salt. Put the peanuts through the food chopper using the coarse knife. Cream shortening, sugar and vanilla together until light and fluffy. Add beaten eggs and peanuts and stir well. Then add the sifted dry ingredients a small amount at a time, stirring well after each addition of flour so the mixture is well blended. Knead by hand for 3 minutes and form into a long roll about 2 inches across. Chill in the refrigerator over-night. In the morning slice as thin as possible and bake in a moderately hot oven of 400 degrees F.

Cold Weather Pointers

ASHES or sand on slippery walks, stairs or landings prevent serious falls.

Delegate someone to check areas daily and resand as necessary.

Calcium Chloride or Sodium Chloride (common salt) mixed with the abrasives before they are spread helps to anchor sand or cinders in the ice, thus preventing them being swept away by winds or traffic.

BREAK-DOWNS or stalling in snow drifts when travelling by car in the country present an emergency which should be anticipated before starting out on long trips. Travellers are well advised to recognize the risks before starting the trip and then travel prepared!

Don't rely on your heater to keep you warm. Wear or carry with you in the car extra clothing and a blanket or two.

Take along a flashlight, first aid kit, a compass and a pair of coveralls.

Avoid trouble by passing up short-cuts, travelling with other cars whenever possible and planning the trip to avoid night travel.

If you should become stalled in the country: Leave the car only if you know where you are going and are sure you can make it! Conserve body heat as long as possible—don't expend it tramping around outside in an effort to keep warm. Wrap up in extra clothing and blankets in the car.

Don't leave the engine running for long periods with windows and doors closed—two men died last year in closed vehicles when they fell asleep and were overcome by fumes.

CARBON MONOXIDE is a hazard which requires particular attention during winter months. With windows and doors closed in buildings to conserve heat, concentrations of the gas may develop wherever vehicles are operated or wherever fuel or other materials are burned.

Ventilating systems in garages, and other buildings where vehicles are operated or stored, are mandatory.

Ensure that your ventilating system is adequate and that workmen use the ventilating facilities provided.

The Board has available a Carbon Monoxide Testing Instrument which can be used at any time to test suspected atmospheres.

Remember — even absurdly low concentrations of the gas can produce, over a sufficient period of time, the same toxic effects as short exposure to a higher concentration.

DRESS for the weather—don't try to "toughen-up" by wearing light-weight clothing. When you do dress up for the cold, remember that gloves, shoes, collars and belts should all be loose enough to allow free circulation of the blood—it's the circulation that produces the warmth and garments are only worn to retain it.

Since most frostbite cases reported to the Board involve the hands or the feet, Foremen and Supervisors should place particular emphasis on mitts and footwear when men are assigned to outdoor jobs. This is particularly true of "green" or inexperienced men who are the most frequent victims of frostbite.

Workmen should be cautioned also, that while leather or felt boots in good condition with woolen socks and felt insoles will protect their feet against the cold, equally important is cleanliness. Footgear won't do their job efficiently in the cold if feet and socks are not kept clean!

CORRESPONDENCE COURSE

By LEWIS WILSHIRE

"What A Coincidence! . . ."

MISS GLADYS GILLING, New South Wales, Australia.

Dear Gladys: I am writing about your request for a pen-friend. I'm twenty-two, have a small flat, and work in an office as secretary to the manager. I am interested in my job and I like my boss, too—he is the most considerate of men! My hobbies are reading, knitting, music (I play the 'cello), theatre-going, and listening to my portable radio. As you see, I'm the home-loving type. Usually I spend my evening alone, for although I've a few office friends, we seldom meet outside work. In winter, I usually attend an educational class, so as to improve my mind. If there's one thing I hate, it's the inane small-talk some girls chatter. Possibly that's why most of my friends are older than I am. Please let me know what hobbies you have, and what Australia's really like. I've always been interested in other countries, and hope that one day I'll be able to visit them. Have you travelled much?—and what do you do? I'm anxiously waiting to hear. Yours sincerely, Lucy Churchill.

N.S.W., Australia, Sept. 22nd.
Miss Lucy Churchill, London, England.

Dear Lucy: How nicely you write! I'm twenty, not yet married. Hoping, though, I also work in an office, and hate it. I started as a copy typist way back. I am still one! My hobbies are swimming, surf-riding, horse-riding, talking and eating. I have lots of friends. But I think I prefer men to girls. I like the sound of your boss. Is he young? How often does he take you out? I like music, too. Boogie and Jive. I like dancing, too. Yes, I agree with what you say about inane small-talk. What sort of hair have you? Mine's fair and fluffy. My best boy friend's in England. His name is Joe. He's there on some government job. Is it raining over there still? Australia is hot now. Herewith a photo of me. Please send me one of yours if you've any to spare. Cherrio. for now, Gladys.

London, Nov. 6th.
Dear Gladys: Yes, dear, I'm afraid it is raining here. How marvellous to get such long spells of sunshine as you do! I'm afraid you've a wrong impression of my boss. He is happily married, with five children, all grown up. I was interested in your hobbies. I've sometimes thought I'd like to go to a dance, but have no one to go with and I'd be shy of going alone. Glad you like music, though I've not heard of the two works you mention. My hair's dark, but I don't bother with it much. I usually pin it into a bun. I like your photo, Gladys. You really do look pretty. But you'll think me terribly plain, I'm afraid. How exciting for you to have a boy friend. You must tell me more about Joe. Is he anywhere near London? Are you engaged yet, dear? Herewith a photograph, which I'm afraid is a very good likeness of me. Yours sincerely, Lucy.

N.S.W., Australia, Jan. 20th.
Dear Lucy: Thanks for the photo. Why the regrets? You've a lovely face, dear, if you made more of it. You could be a beaut if you wanted to. All you need do is use a light powder, dash of rouge to give you a glow, trim eyebrows somewhat and get a hair-do. Why not make a job of yourself! What I mean is, take as much interest in yourself as in your flat. After all, you are far the most important. Don't think me rude, but I hate to think of a girl hiding her light under a bun. And while you're about it, dear, get a nice bright dress—shorter than your present one—that will show your figure. Then, after you've done a bit of spring-cleaning on yourself, trot around to a dance. I can see men falling for you. Yes, Joe is stationed near London, and he says he's been there several times to dances and so on. I don't know why, but I haven't heard from him lately. I do hope he hasn't found himself another girl over there. However, I'm hoping for the best. Keep smiling, Gladys.

London, April 15th.
Dear Gladys: Sorry to be so long replying, but so many things have been happening lately I just haven't had the time. Well, dear, it worked! . . . Your advice, I mean. When I read your letter the first time I was offended. I admit it! I'd an old-fashioned prejudice against make-up and was a bit of a prude. Eventually, though, I thought I'd give it a try. First I had a hair-do, then a facial. The things they did to my face! I've been a different person ever since. I've a new outfit, too, which makes me look about seventeen . . . But that isn't so important! What is important is what happened after . . . It was like this. Having changed myself into someone different to look at, I wasn't content to stay at home any more. I wanted to see what effect it might have. Wanted to go out and show me to the boys. So . . . I went to a dance. Not that I liked the dancing so much! But it was there, at the dance, that I met him. Oh, Lucy, he's wonderful. Certainly the nicest boy I've met. And ever since then we've been going places: theatres, dances, supper, shows. Now I'm just waiting for THE DAY. However, he has to write and tell his folks about it first. And he doesn't quite know how they'll take it, because he used to have a girl (a "shallow, noisy little kid" he calls her) back home . . . He comes from Australia, you know. And as it happens, he, too, comes from New South Wales. What a coincidence! And his name is Joe. Yours gratefully, Lucy.

Grand Old Lady Of Man. Northland

FLIN FLON, Man. — Mrs. C. M. (Ma) Bell, 92, is the "grand old lady" of Manitoba's northland.

She has lived in this northern mining region for more than 30 years. She knew Flin Flon when it was just a mining camp, with a few shacks built near the mine headframe. The boys in camp came to know of her many kindnesses. They were always welcome at her home.

Mrs. Bell was born in Prince Edward Island. Several years ago she went down to Winnipeg—and came back with a new husband. She stayed at the Oddfellows' Home in Charleswood and there met 81-year-old George Jeffrey. They were married in January, 1948, and lost no time in coming up north again.

Despite her new married name, the north still knows her as "Ma" Bell.

WHAT IS Personal Planning?

Personal Planning is more than mere budgeting . . . that, by itself, is dull.

Personal Planning is a positive financial program for successful individual and family living — a program for progressive and provident people — people who have ideas for their future and want to make them real.

That's why Personal Planning is so different. It is a plan that faces the fact that all of us must live on what we have — not on what we wish for. It also faces the fact that a budget-plan should never choke the fun out of life. It shows you how to put yourself on your own payroll, as well as the butcher, the baker and candlestick-maker. It shows you how to build for tomorrow, while you enjoy today. Yes, and it shows you how to get the most out of life with what you earn.

In Personal Planning, the important thing is: IT'S NOT HOW MUCH YOUR INCOME IS... IT'S HOW YOU USE IT.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING ABOUT Personal Planning

Personal Planning was introduced on a test basis to visitors at the Canadian National Exhibition last autumn. Thousands of people responded to our invitation and asked for copies of "Personal Planning for Successful Home-makers."

"Up-to-date and practical for present living conditions," is what one visitor wrote us after reading the booklet.

"I needed this advice very badly," wrote another, "and you have already helped to straighten out a quarter of our personal problems."

"Excellent pamphlet," said a third. "My budget-plan will be organized within a month."

These comments, and many more like them, are in the Bank's files at the Head Office in Montreal.

You can cut down your money problems...with Personal Planning

DO YOU RUN YOUR MONEY, OR DOES IT RUN YOU?

Can you make your money do for you the things you think it should? You can . . . with Personal Planning.

BE MASTER OF YOUR MONEY . . . With Personal Planning, you can be boss of your budget . . . you can organize your life to rid yourself of "day-after-pay-day" worries. More than that, besides living within your income, you can make the most of your money with Personal Planning.

PERSONAL PLANNING FOR EVERYBODY . . . Get yourself a copy of our new booklet, "Personal Planning", and you'll see what we mean. Whatever your job in life . . . whether you're a factory worker or office clerk — stenographer or housewife — farmer, fisherman, miner or businessman . . . you will find it immensely practical in dealing with personal and family financing.

NO MONEY MIRACLES . . . Personal Planning doesn't deal with money miracles — or show you how to get rich overnight. That's something we know nothing about. But it does deal with money management. As bankers to the Canadian people for 133 years, we do know something about this.

HOW TO GET THE MOST OUT OF YOUR MONEY . . . "Personal Planning" is a cheery little book that tells you — whatever your income — how to get yourself on a sound financial foundation . . . how to get the most out of your money.

Call in at your nearest B of M branch and ask for a copy. There's no obligation . . . except to yourself.
